ELEVEN INDICTED BY WILSON JURY

Coroner's and Grand Juries Inquire Into Death of T. P. Jones Wednesday Night.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILSON, N. C., May 15.—The coroner's jury, which has been investigating the death of T. Percy Jones, who was attacked in his room here at a late hour Wednesday night by a mob of men after being warned to leave town, and was shot to death, this afternoon brought in the following verdict:

"From the evidence, we find that T. Percy Jones came to his death from a pistol wound fired from the hand of one of the following conspirators: George Whitley, Gill Ward, W. H. Rich, John Allen, J. B. Piver, W. W. Barnes, W. P. Croom, or from the hand of one of their accomplices."

The grand jury, which is now in session here, has just returned true bills against the eleven men under arrest: Messrs. George W. Whitley, J. B. Piver, Lawrence Morgan, John Pittman, W. H. Rich, W. W. Barnes, S. J. Walls, Gill Ward, Thomas Bass, John Allen and W. P. Croom.

The second day's session of the inquest over the death of T. Percy Jones was begun here this morning. Interest in the case has grown, and long before the hour for trial all the available room in the Mayor's office was filled up. New evidence was produced showing that a conspiracy had been formed to run Jones out of town, and that the Wilson Light Infantry, an appointed spokesman, Mayor Herring produced in court three bullets, one taken from the body of the dead man, one picked up in Jones' room by Police Officer Mumford shortly after the shooting, and the other extracted from a shell taken from a box in Rich's room and a 28 calibre pistol. All the bullets were of the same pattern and made for the same bore gun. Evidence implicating all those now under arrest was produced.

CITY IN DARKNESS

Traffic into Jacksonville, However, Has Been Resumed.

(By Associated Press.)
JACKSONVILLE, FLA., May 15.—All trains into and out of Jacksonville yesterday were running. The washouts did not interfere with the Seaboard except as to Jacksonville and one or two nearest stations, as it has a line turning to the southwest about which it made connections more direct than through Jacksonville with points South and West.

The Atlantic Coast Line was the heaviest loser in the catastrophe. It was here to-day, and said that though a correct estimate of the damage could not be given, he thought that it would cost $100,000 to repair the damage to that line in Jacksonville. The streets are in darkness to-night.

The next meeting place was left with the Board of Governors, Augusta is very anxious for the convention next year, and some of the members are desirous of going to Washington. This, however, will be determined at a later date.

The association adjourned this evening. A banquet was tendered the visitors at the Central Hotel to-night.

BAYLOR SURVEY
Investigating Committee to Start Out on June 16th.

The special joint committee of the General Assembly to investigate and report as to the advisability of leasing the barren area and depleted oyster rocks and shoals within the Baylor survey will start on June 16th from this city aboard one of the State's oyster steamers or police boats on their preliminary trip. This will last about three weeks. Then the commission will make the real trip, which will be done in September or October, so as to have the report ready for the fall session. The oyster season will then be on and the legislators will have an opportunity to see a better idea of the great shell fish industry than can be made in the closed season.

Sensors Bryant and Watkins and Delegates E. C. Jordan, Matthews and Cardwell composed the joint committee. Mr. John J. Burke will be the clerk of the commission.

The report of the committee will be likely to precipitate a prolonged struggle over the subject. If it recommends the lease of any part of the area within the geodetic survey. The creation of the commission is the result of the agitation of the subject by Delegate E. C. Jordan, who urged the breaking of the Baylor survey and the leasing of oyster rock therein as a means of building up the depleted area and at the same time bringing in revenue to the State. He claims that the seed oysters are being depleted, and that unless something be done promptly the oyster interests of the State will in a few years become practically extinct. The oystermen generally oppose the proposition, and will be loathe to the benefit of the packers and wealthy oystermen and the injury of the tongsman and small planters.

COTTON MILL MEN ADJOURN

Report on Curtailment of Production and Partial Closing of Mills Was Adopted.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 15.—The Cotton Spinners, before adjournment to-day, decided to change the name of the association from the Southern Cotton Spinners' Association to the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association. The following officers were elected: President, W. C. Heath, of Monroe; Vice-President, Thomas M. Swift, of Elberton, Ga.; Secretary and Treasurer, C. B. Bryant, Charlotte; Board of Governors, R. S. Reinhardt, Lincoln, chairman; Dr. J. H. McAden, Charlotte; Arthur H. Lowe, Fitchburg, Mass.; J. C. Smith, New York; George E. B. Smith, Charlotte; R. Ray, McAdenville; E. W. Thomas, Charlotte; A. P. Rhine, Mt. Holly; E. Lang, West Point, Ga.; David Clark, Charlotte; Val Taylor, Unlawton, Ga.; T. P. Leak, Rockingham; E. A. Smith, Charlotte; T. L. Walnwright, Stonewall, Mass.; B. E. Williamson, Macon, Ga.

The special committee appointed to consider the question of curtailment of production submitted the following report, which was adopted:

"Your committee have duly considered the important subject referred to them, and now beg to submit to your consideration the following resolution: That the cotton manufacturing world is facing conditions that are likely to continue so long as present artificial influences dominate the market for raw cotton. These conditions are so serious that action by the Southern Cotton Spinners' Association is deemed imperative, and your committee, to whom this subject has been referred, would recommend that the influence of the association be used to—

"First, To bring about an entire cessation of night work.
"Second, The operation of mills not over four days per week.
"Third, These recommendations to take effect not later than June 1st to 15th, 1903."

Your committee are of the opinion that by a proper effort the co-operation of the majority of the mills in the Southern States can be secured, and believe that an appeal should also be sent out to bankers and shippers to the same effect, to throw their influence in the same direction. If favorable action is taken by the convention, your committee recommend that the American Counsel at Manchester be directed to Liverpool and Manchester exchange.

(Signed), R. S. REINHARDT, Chairman, J. H. HOOKER, Secretary, LEONARD PAULSON, J. P. LEAK, L. C. Turner.

For an hour and more the association listened with a great deal of pleasure to an address by Mr. H. J. Webber, of the Agricultural Department at Washington, as to the growth of Egyptian cotton in the South. Mr. Webber stated that so far the Egyptian cotton in the South where the Egyptian cotton had been raised with success. These were in Central Georgia, Northern Florida and the islands off the coast of South Carolina.

Mr. Thomas, of Charlotte, was next introduced to the convention, and read an able paper on "The Advantages of Diversifying Manufacturing in the South." This subject always an interesting one to thinking manufacturers, was ably handled by Mr. Thomas, and was listened to with much interest by a crowded house.

The next meeting place was left with the Board of Governors, Augusta is very anxious for the convention next year, and some of the members are desirous of going to Washington. This, however, will be determined at a later date.

The association adjourned this evening. A banquet was tendered the visitors at the Central Hotel to-night.

WILKINSON BRYAN FOR CLEVELAND

Capt. Lamb Says Party Must Choose Other Leaders. Names Parker.

Congressman John Lamb declares emphatically that Bryan is not the man for the Democrats to put at the head of the ticket next year.

He asserts with equal positiveness that it would do in the world to put Cleveland there.

"Well, Captain, who do you think is the most available man to head the ticket for the Democrats and why?"

"Judge Parker, of the Supreme Court of New York," he replied with hesitation. "I think this," he went on, "because what the Democrats must have to win is one who will beat the breach and unite the gold and free silver factions. Neither Cleveland nor Bryan can possibly do that. If one of them were chosen, the situation of 1896 would be duplicated."

"What was Judge Parker's record in '97?" was next asked.

"He voted for Bryan, I think."

The Congressman said that his course at that time and since was such as to be conciliatory to both gold and silver Democrats.

"Whom do you favor for a running mate with Judge Parker?" was next asked.

"Latham, of Texas," was the prompt reply.

Mr. Latham and Captain Lamb have long been close personal friends, and on one occasion the Captain called on him in New York. Captain Lamb thought, also, that it was now time a southern man was put on the ticket.

David R. Francis, president of the St. Louis Exposition, was suggested, but Captain Lamb did not seem much impressed with the one time Secretary of the Interior's fitness.

Captain Lamb has gone to the reunion in New Orleans, and upon returning will begin work on his fences in the way of going about the country meeting people and making friends.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. JUDGE W. H. MANN TO THE LADIES

Auspicious Anniversary Celebration of East End W. C. T. U.

The eighth anniversary of the East End W. C. T. U. was celebrated last evening under very pleasing and auspicious circumstances. The celebration occurred at the residence of the president, Mrs. W. M. Bickers, No. 40 North Twenty-seventh Street, and the parlors of the residence were taxed to their capacity with a large number of white ribboners and their friends. The opening religious exercises consisted of singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" and a fervent prayer by Rev. P. A. Cave, after which Mrs. Bickers extended a hearty welcome to the company on behalf of East End W. C. T. U.

Mrs. W. M. Bickers said it had fallen to her happy lot to present the orator of the evening, who was widely known and beloved as a champion of temperance and of civic righteousness and adopted as his speech of presentation the sentiments of a series of resolutions East End Union had passed recently thinking and commending Judge Mann for his zealous efforts in the cause of truth and righteousness.

The engrossed resolutions were read by Mr. Bickers after which Judge Mann delivered an address replete with eloquence and logic that called forth the highest applause and which effort was an inspiration to the friends of the temperance cause.

Judge Mann declared the basis of all good government was the purity of the people, and eloquently defended the position of the temperance people. His tribute to the White Ribboners and to the active Christian organized efforts generally was graceful and hearty.

After the address Judge Mann received nothing short of an ovation and was personally thanked by every one present for his superb effort.

Instrumental music was then furnished by Messrs. Hill, Graves and Blankenship on string instruments and then Mrs. G. M. Jobson, widely known as a W. C. T. U. zealous worker, made an inspiring talk that was heartily applauded.

Mrs. W. L. Bales sang a solo in an artistic manner that was much enjoyed and Miss Julia Bickers closed the formal programme with a fine recitation, "The Cereals of the Bible," that elicited much applause.

Refreshments were served by an attentive committee of young ladies and gentlemen and an hour of social converse followed, during which the company was pleasantly dispersed with good wishes for the continued prosperity of East End Union and the fair president.

OUT FOR GOVERNOR
How a Stranger from Louisiana County Created Amusement.

Delegates Boaz and Luke, of Albemarle; Newhouse, of Culpeper, and Early, of Greene, were sitting in the lobby at the New York last night when one of the delegates from Louisiana County, who had joined the group. He was rather loquacious. After informing the group of legislators that he was from Louisiana, and enquiring Delegate West, in all of which the bunch coincided, the Louisiana turned questioner and wanted to know who was being mentioned for Governor next time.

"A man by the name of Boaz, from Albemarle, who is being talked for that position," suggested Colonel Newhouse, guessing that the stranger did not know the chairman of the House Finance Committee.

"Never heard of him," was the comment of the gentleman from the county of old Louisiana. "Who else is in the field?"

"Colonel Newhouse, of Culpeper, is also mentioned," suggested one of the quartette, by way of getting back at the Colonel.

The stranger thought a while and then admitted that he believed he had heard of him vaguely, but did not know anything about him. Then the laugh was on the Colonel.

Desiring to know all the aspirants, the stringer asked for a list of names, and told that a man named Early was likely to run for Governor.
